

TH 230 Pneumatologia II (3)

Puritan Reformed Biblical Seminary
 Doctor of Divinity in Puritan Studies
 May 2015

COURSE OUTLINECourse Description

A study of an extensive biblical theological account of the human soul.

Course Objectives

1. The student will learn puritans' understanding of doctrine of man particularly on his soul.
2. The student will be able to discuss the on human soul theologically.
3. The student will be able explain the problems concerning the soul's immortality and how the soul and body connect with each other.
4. The student will be encouraged to forsake the fleshly desires because the body is temporal so that they may look the things concerning eternity.

Course TextbooksRequired Textbook

Falvel, John. Pneumatologia: A Treatise of the Soul of Man. Grand Rapids, MI: Christian Classics Ethereal Library.

The following reading is required:

| Author | Book | Pages |
|---------------|--|------------------|
| Henry Scougal | The Life of God in the Soul of Man | 84 |
| | Additional reading from pertinent sources | 116 |
| | TOTAL READING | 200 pages |

Course Requirements

1. Paper. The student is to write one paper from the required textbook mentioned above. The paper must be typed, one inch margins, double-spaced, and 40–45 pages in length, including bibliography. The paper should follow the turabian guidelines and conform to the seminary manual for papers and theses. Student has to create his/ her own outline from the textbook, and develop his content and argument discussing with the ideas of the author from the same book as stating its strength and weakness of the paper.

Note: Though the student discusses with the textbook and develops his content from the same, he/ she must consult with other valid/ scholarly works for better understanding of the subject.

2. Reading. The student is to read the course syllabus and the required reading materials given in this description.

Remember, Paper and reading report is to be graded as follows:

Course Grading

- The student should consult the catalog for the grading scale used in the seminary.
- The paper constitutes 85% of the course grade.
- The reading constitutes 15% of the course grade.
- Students may turn in class assignments through e-mail in a word/ pdf format as your mentor demands.
- Late assignments, unless the result of circumstances beyond the student's control, are not accepted.
- Except when permission has been granted by the mentor, the complete work not turned in by the end of the program time limits, is recorded as a zero and the student's grade computed accordingly.